

Incident response

Training and development

The aim of the training aid is to assist train operators in developing their employees to gain/maintain the competence necessary to deal with an operational incident at all levels, which may occur on the Network and seriously affect their operation/business.

We believe the type of training is unique to the Rail Industry, as it allows participants to actually train at the scene of an incident, as they will be an integral part of it. And in doing so, it allows participants to make key decisions based on what they see, as opposed to what they perceive.

To support this, RODL have produced a suite of training exercises, which range from a category A SPAD, to a station buffer stop collision with minor/major injuries/fatalities, a level crossing incident involving a passenger train and a road vehicle, to a dangerous goods incident. The major ones have been designed to test your company's emergency response plan to its full extent.

In addition to the exercise material, if any company wishes to run their own table top exercises involving the emergency services, Network Rail, other TOCs, external agencies etc. RODL can facilitate these exercises.

As part of the TOLO, SIO or incident investigator training process, RODL will provide the necessary competent people, to role play Rail Incident Officer (RIO), the drivers involved in the incident etc. To make the training as realistic as possible.

As to the full range of services we can offer, along with the pricing levels, which can either be delivered at your location or at RODL's training centre in Crewe., we can offer the following:

Company specific training

Emergency response plan

1. Initial training
2. Ongoing refresher training
3. Company and/or individual assessment
4. Evaluation

Accident, DG incident and security exercises

Company specific or involving other railway undertakings, the emergency services, other agencies and local authorities including DG exercise (including Nuclear)

Train operator liaison officer (TOLO) and Station incident officer (SIO) training

1. Initial training
2. Ongoing refresher training
3. Ongoing assessment

Accident/incident investigator

1. Initial training
2. Ongoing refresher training
3. Ongoing assessment

All Prices

Negotiable (subject to numbers attending and venue)

General training

If your company doesn't require a dedicated TOLO, SIO or incident investigator training course, but still require managers trained. RODL are running courses which are open to all safety certificated companies employees.

To find out when courses are available and to provisionally book a course, or to find out more, please contact us at:

enquiries@rodl.co.uk

or you may wish to call us directly on

Tel: +44(0)1270 588500

Alternatively you can write to us at:

Rail Operations Development Ltd, Electra House, Electra Way
Crewe Business Park, Crewe, Cheshire CW1 6GL

Or contact us via our website www.railoperationsdevelopment.co.uk